The Dual Nature Question..Dan Mohler

The old man has been crucified and the new man has come.

A lot of people believe, I'm sin waiting to happen, that sin is buried in me, that it's inherent in me and it's just waiting to happen.

As soon as you accept that you give in to the power of sin.

Don't present your members unto unrighteousness as if you're bound to serve it. You're not a slave to sin.

Don't be afraid to declare that you live by the Spirit, that you are righteous in the sight of God, that the will to love like God, to walk like God has been imputed through Christ Jesus and you have been born again.

To be born again something has to die so that something can live.. I am not sin waiting to happen.

We think because we have the ability to sin that's our identity. What silences and crushes your ability to sin is yielding your members to righteousness.

Do you have the ability now to continually yield yourself to God? Yes..

We have a tendency to identify with the fall rather than the resurrection.

Brother we all sin, what are you saying that you're perfect?

That very mindset is what keeps men bound in the flesh.

Why don't we affirm righteousness instead of sin?

Most of the time when people ask that question it's because they're living in the consciousness of sin in their life.

The Bible says IF I sin not WHEN.

The last thing a Christian is supposed to be doing is thinking about sin, we're supposed to be thinking about righteousness and what Jesus has accomplished on the cross for us.

You're on the highway of Holiness, if you happen to sin along the way you have an advocate with the Father, just get forgiven and keep on going.

I am not made for sin. Father, I am made for Your Glory, I am made for your righteousness. You knew what you were doing when you made me. You are in me and I am in you. Nothing is stopping me now. The truth is here and I am free.

I'm not a puppet on a string anymore and I won't be ruled by a taskmaster, because I have a heavenly father.

I talk that way.
I think that way
and it does a lot of good.
